Depending on the boat you can board on foot or in your car, and many ferries can even be used to transport large goods to the barrier islands. Of course, before you try to cross the ocean you should know where each ferry goes and when it leaves, so check with the schedules below. All listed times are for the departing port; before traveling during inclement weather you should verify that the ferry is running with its respective company. For the Cross Sound Ferry schedule, please visit the Cross Sound Ferry website.
